Description:

Exhaustively researched and in chronological order, this collection of trivia related to crime includes facts on the first train robbery, the last person in England to be imprisoned for denying the existence of God, and the only person to be hanged wearing a policeman's uniform.

Crime buffs and trivia nuts alike will enjoy this English import first published in 2007. It provides a magical misery tour of criminal records logged in the last thousand years. FIRSTS, LASTS & ONLYS, CRIME is chock-a-block full of noteworthy - mostly British Empire - murders, hangings, double hangings, triple hangings, duels, beheadings, drawing-and-quarterings, pressed-to-deaths, kidnappings, escapes, pardons and what not. Authors Beadle and Harrison divide their material into Firsts, Lasts and Onlys categories and then, within each category, proceed in a straight chronological arrangement. The first Onlys entry, for example, dates from 1417; the last from 1993. So, if you're interested in learning details of...the last witch executed in Europe, the only mass escape from America's death row, the last beheadings in Great Britain, the first criminal caught by fingerprint evidence, the last royal execution in Great Britain, the first killing by a Sky Marshal, the only English queen arrested for being a witch, the first mobster to conceal a weapon in an instrument case, the only albino executed for murder in Great Britain, the last woman boiled alive in Great Britain, the only couple hanged for adultery in America, the last criminal hanged in Scotland for stealing sheep...this is the book for you. In short, FIRSTS, LASTS & ONLYS, CRIME is a macabre yet informative chronicle sure to fascinate the armchair detective in all of us. I just wish they had included an index! Recommended. #925.
